About the Company

Personal address

Hi and thanks for taking the time to find out more about who we are and what we are about. I'm Johnson Anorh, the Managing director of this exciting enterprise and I'd like to share with you a personal insight into what makes us who we are at this company. We began this journey primarily out of passion and an identified need we were able to highlight across the branding and supply process. Packaging is critical to the essence of what a product is or can be in the mind of its customers.

With decades of experience in communication and branding, we had seen a need to infuse creativity, design, and the disruptive nature of effective communications not just at the point of sale or purchase, but even from the point of production – helping brands become what they must to be able to achieve what they will in the market.

This is the driving force behind our motivations and ideals as we begin with our vision to package not just the entirely of Africa, but the World at large. Thank you for taking this journey with us, or at least taking the fist step.

Johnson Anorh, MD/CEO

Use data driven insights to create high quality earth friendly packages from design to production with seamless integration into the supply chain of our clients around Africa and the world.

Why We Standout Why US?

What we do

Conceptualization.

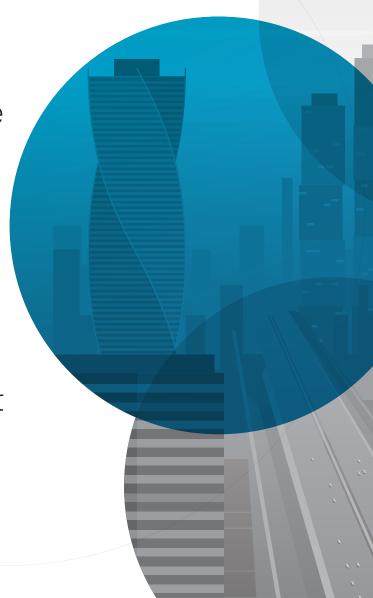

We ideate an effective blueprint for executing the product brief with an eye to accommodate client specifications and consumer needs.

Design.

We execute and create exciting designs and models to fit within the packaging parameters and dimensions.

Planogramming.

We take the shelf into consideration as we create unique packages designed to stand out clearly on the shelf and in the market.

Production.

We implement a best-in-class production process guaranteed to provide international quality packages for all products.

Warehousing.

We incorporate warehousing facilities to assist in logistics for our clients and their packaging concerns

Supply.

We supply to our clients on time, and as required. Ensuring we are able to adapt seamlessly into their production process for efficient delivery.

Merchandising.

Our sister companies provide after production services to ensure that your product not only makes it to the shelf, but also makes it to your preferred consumers and target audiences.

Why we stand out.

We execute projects utilizing a team with collectively over 100 years of expertise within the branding, outreach, advertising, and communications space – ensuring we take into consideration not only the specifications and parameters to be attained per client requirements, but also the most effective execution strategy to be applied when taking the market, the shelf, and the consumer into consideration.

We provide a holistic approach to the packaging process, ensuring it not only a high quality and effective product identifying vehicle, but also a targeted and effective communication tool fit to operate and dominate within the market.
